MISCKLANKOUS.

The petition of the Church of the Redeemer, on Eighty-fifth street, to be relieve: from taxation, was granted. The Chief Engineer of the Aqueduct department was requested, by a resolution, to use suitable means to prevent the hydrants from freezing. Resolutions from the Board of Councilmen, in relation to specification for paving Park row, that ham street, &c., meditying the terms of application, were adopted after slight amendment. The report of the Committee on erecting a Post Office at the south angle of the Park was made a special order for next Locatan venning.

The report of the Councilmen for the organization of the second firmen as a company, to take enarge of the engine of Company No. 42, and perform duly at fires, was reported against by the committee of this Board. On motion of Alderman Howard, the report of the committee was amended, and the company was directed to be organized, and to be under the direction of the Chief Engineer, or any of his assistants in command. Appropriation from the Councilmen, apacopriating 310,000 to the Association for Relieving the Condition of the Foor, being called uj—

Alderman Howard moved as an amendment that the appropriation be increased to $20,000.

Alderman Howard moved as an amendment would not be presed, as it would only cause delay in the administration of relief. It was better to secure $10,000 than to run the risk of having the amendment would prevail the too, he would vot and in actual want as there are at present. Alderman Chaunery again expressed a hope that the Board would endeavor to secure at once the $10,000, and they could vote $50,000 or $100,000 at a future day if they saw the necessity for it.

Alderman DRAKE was in favor of the increased appromention.

Alderman Dake was in layor of the mend-peration.

Alderman Morr said that he would support the amend-ment. In a city like this, where the rich were living in palaces and luxury, the poor should be taken care of, and he, for one, was willing to vote for a sum that would relieve their distressed condition. He feared that if this state of things continued they would have a recurrence of donc riots, for men would not starve where there was plenty.

Alderman Voorens was in favor of the apprepriation of Alderman Voories was in favor of the appropriation of $10,000; he believed the association a very trustworthy body, and the best medium of distributing it.

Alderman Elent was in the habit of subscribing personally to the association for years past, but he was averse to the increased appropriation. He thought $10,000 sufficient for present purposes.

Alderman Warkman thought the amendment of the Alderman of the Sixth ward (Howard,) was mistaken philt nthropy. The $10,000 appropriation could be passed to olight, signed by the Mayor in the morning, and put into immediate service for relief. He thought that the men who were parties to granting sixty theusand spirit licenses in this city had much to answer for—they had but granted permits to manufacture paupers. He hoped the geatlemen would be satisfied with the sum voted by the Councilmen, and it would be time enough in January or February to grant an additional sum for the same purpose.

Miderman William Tucker was opposed to the amend-

Afterman White I to a mendment of Alderman mest.

The question being put, the amendment of Alderman Howard was lost by a vote of 8 to 9.

Alderman Bains them moved that the appropriation be $15,000, instead of $10,000, which was also lost.

The original appropriation made by the Councilmen for $10,000 was then put by the chair and carried unani-

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE EUCLEIAN SOCIETY.
The twenty-first admiversary of the Eucleian Society was held at Hope Chapel on Wednesday evening, 20th inst. A large audience was in attendance, composed of the students of the University and their friends, together with many of the graduates of that institution A number of ladies lent their presence to make the affair attractive, and smile applause on the young gentlemen who participated in the exercises. Dodworth's band was in attendance, and during the evening favored the audience with some of their exquisite musi :.

The members of the various secret societies, the Zeta Psi's, Psi Upsilon's, and others attached to the Univer sity, were out in full force, adorned with the mysterious in-ignia of their respective orders.

The exercises were commenced by a prayer from Chancellor Ferris, after which the President. Samuel Carlisle, delivered the opening address. He stated that the society had been in existence twenty-one years, and numbered among its members the Hon Wm. McMurray and A. Oskey Hall. Its motto is, "Always excelling." He alluded to the former history of the society and the many touching associations that clustered around it. He concluded an able address amid much applause.

An oration followed, "On the Proper Object of lafe," by Irving S. Campbell

This was an excellent production, and was delivered with great spirit. The pleasing elecution and graceful carriage of Mr. Campbell called down the warm plaudits of the audience.

Mr. H. N. Fishers then delivered a poem, entitled "The Past Year," which was full of hits at the follies and fashions of the day. It savored strongly of Know Nothingism, but this scemed to be a recommendation to the audience, who warmly applauded any reference to that mysterious body.

This interesting topic was discussed with great spirit by Mesers. W. H. Cooke, E. B. Monree and T. M. Adams in the affirmative; and Mesers. T. S. Mount, E. M. Felt and E. T. Owen in the negative. After debating the question for an hour, and throwing as much light as was possible on the vexed questions of abolitionism, Know Nothingism, &c. the discussion closed, to the great disappointment of the audience, who were evidently desirous of hearing more. The benediction was then pronounced, and the company separated much pleased and ediffect with what they had seen and heard.

ANOTHER INFERNAL MACHINE EXPLOSION—AN ATTEMPT TO FIRE THE BUILDING.

At about seven o'clock last evening an alarm was given At about seven o clock has evening an alarm was given in the building No. 5 Chatham square, by the explosion of an infernal machine, which shook the whole of the upper part of the premises, created great consternation amongst the inmates, and set the place on fire; but by the immediate application of water by the occupants of the upper stories, it was soon extinguished. The police were attracted to the premises, and upon examina-tion, a tiu box was found, blown apart, and, from its appearance, had contained near a pound of gunpowder. This box had evidently been arranged for the purpose, a hole having been found in its side, into which a slow match had been placed, to set off the powder at a certain time. This ma placed, to set off the powder at a certain time. This ma-chine had been inserted between the partition of the pocketbook establishment of Solomon Spitzer & Ca.'s, on the second floor and the entry, when it exploded and ahattered the partition, and set a portion of it on fire. Mr. Spitzer's workmen had not yet left work, and the explosion gave them great alarm, fearing that some-thing more terrible might yet occur. Capt. Ditchett, of the Fourth ward police, was advised of the affair, and will make a thorough investigation, is order, if possible, to secure the guilty parties. The tin box found bears the appearance of a siedlitz powder box.

FIRE IN THERD AVENUE — Yesterday morning, between 2 and 3 o'clock, a fire was discovered by the police of the Twenty-first ward, in a grocery store, situated at No. 425 Third avenue, corner of Thirtieth street, kept by William Stark. The alarm was given, the firemen were William Stark. The alarm was given, the firemen were soon on the spot, and extinguished it before the flames had time to extend beyond the store. Mr. Stark was absent, it is said, at a ball; and the clerk, who slept in a room back of the store, was awoke by the people living up stairs, or he might have lost his life. As it was, he came near being sufficiented by the smoke. The Fire Marshal arrived just as the fire was extinguished, and made an examination of the premises with Capt. Spright and one of the Assistant Engineers, and, from their observation, it was evident the fire had originated under the counter, near the window. Its appearance looked as if it might have been the work of design. The clerk said he put out all the lights when he went to bed, and the boss, who slept in the same bed with him, on his return would let himself in with a key to a side door on Thritieth street; but he had not returned at the time of the fire. We understand Mr. Starck has an insurance of $800 on his stock in the New Amsterdam Insurance Company. The loss will probably amount to near $300. The whole matter, no doubt, will be fully investigated by the Fire Marshal.

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC AND THE CARSON LEAGUE.

The spirited contest now going on in Jersey City, be-tween the Carson league and the liquor sellers, is the principal topic of interest among its citizens. Notwith-standing the liquor sellers have been closely besieged and many of their places closed, they resist with much and many of their places closed, they resist with much spirit the charges made against them, and, as yet, Sebastopol has not fallen! Victory appears to perch alternately upon the banners of each party, and each claim present and prospective success. At present the liquor sellers are exulting over what they consider to be a complete triumph. Counsel for the liquor sellers have considered that their clients could not legally be prosecuted for a second offence, unless it were committed after the conviction for a first offence. The Recorder has held, that after establishing the fact of one offence, other offences committed subsequent to that one, but previous to the conviction, may be tried as second and third offences, or as counts in an indictment. In the trials which have occurred thus far, a warrant has been issued in each case, but all of those warrants against each offender were of one date. The case of H. Rathbone was before the Recorder's Court on Tuesday, R. D. McClelland, Jr., Cily Attorney, appeared in behalf of the city, and R. Gilchrist, Jr., of Jersey City, and Mr. Grover, of Newark, appeared for the defendant. The case was closely contested, and the Recorder on Tuesday evening consulted Judge Ogden, now presiding in the Easex county Court, at Newark. Although sustained in most of his positions by the Judge, the Recorder decided on Wedneeday morning, on account of some informality or illegality, to dismiss the case of Rathbone. It is also said that all of the other complaints have been quashed, and new proceedings will be had after the holidays, and after the session of the County Court, which will commence next week, is finished. Acting under the advice of the City Attorney, costs are not added to the penalties. The liquor sellers expect to recover the sums which they have paid as fines and costs to the city, and which amount to about $4,600. spirit the charges made against them, and, as yet, Se-

But little business has as yet been transacted in either House of a general character. The perdir gelection of an U.S. Senatur being an obelede to the prosecution of matters of vital interest to the Sate.

The Senatorial election will probably take place the present week, as it is understood that the few anti-Yuice democrats, who a few days since existed, have been very generally conciliated, therefore his election may now be come dered a fixed fact.

Mr. Lyman W. Rowley, one of the youngest and nost talented democratic members of the House, (from Examble county) is violent in his opposition to Mr. Yulce, and will, under no circumstance, support him. The friends of Yulce charge It wiley with being a Know Nothing, and his possition to Mr. Yulce attributable to the fact of Mr. Y. being oreign born.

A bill has been introduced into the Senate by Mr. Myrick, of Jackson county, to abolish the Supreme Court of the State, and meets with general favor, to far as i smable to judge.

The present session bids fair to be an important one, as many mitters of importance are to come before the Legislature. When on the tapis it will afford me pleasure to post your readers with regard thereto.

light. There is a channel inside of these ledges which is seldom used. The mark for bringing up with them is Cage Gray's two chimneys in range.

The main ship channel is to the northward of the Triangles, which must be loft on the starboard hand in going down the Reach. Vessels coming by Hog island must keep on a NE course. Vessels coming by Hog island must keep on a NE course. Vessels coming by Grap Rosiere, after getting Condor's point, on the western entrance of Buok's haclor, to bear NE, must run for ituntilup with or have passed the middle of the head of the Reach, which will take these to the northward of the Triangle Ledges, between which sade Buck's harbor, on north shore of the harbor, there is good water and free from dangers.

The port hand, on the north side of the Reach, must be kept on board. Run SE for a tolerably high bluff point, called Bayard's Point, which should be given a good berth in passing, then band in to the NE, and anchor in a good harber called Pleasant Cove.

It bound to Sedgwick, continue the S. E. course about 2½ miles irom the hulf point, or until the village of Sedgwick is opened by the west entrance to the harbor, bearing to the N. E., when haul is and anchor \( \) of a mile from the entrance with good bottom.

W. by S. from Carter's Point (the west entrance to Soigwick) \( \) of a mile lies Stumpy Cove Ledge, with any three iset of water on it at low water. With the exception of this ledge, the north shore is pretty bold to the head of the Reach.

The Deer Island side of the reach is not so bold until up to the Narrows or Bayard's Point, when vessels may streech from side to side. After leaving Scott's, or the steamboat il anding, going east, give the starboard shore a good borth, as there is a string of ledges well out from the shore covered at high water.

It bound for the Reach, continue S. E. for a red, bare ledge, with round stones on it, called Torry's Castle. Thi, inhuling, going ease, give the startucard shore a good berth, at there is a string of lodges well out from the shore covered at high water.

It bound for the Reach, continue S. E. for a red, bare ledge, with round stones on it, called Torry's Castle. This logic lice off the west point of the western Torry's Island, and the water is bold on either side. It must be left on the port hand, continuing to the S. E. for a bluff, rocky point at the eastern extremity of the Reach.

It will be necessary to look out for a ledge which is sometimes visible at low water, called Conory's Ledge, which lies SSE of Torry's Castle, and NW by N of Conory's Island.

Conory's Island is large, and lies off the eastern cad of Deer Island. To go clear, keep Eaton's house in range with Torry's Castle. Eaton's house is the first one seen to the castward of Bayard's Point.

In running for the bluff point before named, called "Dutch City," a large number of Islands will be left on the port hand, which may be passed close to.

Arther passing Conory's Ledge, stand two thirds of the way to the Deer Island side, until near the lower end of the Reach or "Dutch City," when it will be necessary to keep a good lookout for ledges which lie of "Dutch City," and about midway, known as Half Tide Rocks, being visible as half tide.

The SE course should be continued by "Dutch City" and half tide.

The SE course should be continued by "Dutch City" and until the Southern Mount Desert Hill is brought out by the south point of Harbor Island, when haul to the eastward for Mahony's Island, leaving it on the starboard hand if beind to Blue Hill, Elisworth, or Mount Desert.
